

Examination Rules

The examination rules describe general procedures for semester examinations. Students must register for examinations within the announced registration period and satisfy the applicable academic requirements.

Students should carry a valid student identity card or other identification permitted by the institution to the examination hall. The examination authority may verify identity before allowing a student to enter.

Students should arrive at the examination venue before the reporting time. Late entry is subject to the examination authority's rules and may be restricted after the specified time.

During the Examination

Students must follow the instructions given by the invigilator. Only permitted materials and devices may be brought into the examination hall.

Electronic devices such as mobile phones and unauthorized smart devices must not be used during the examination. Any permitted calculator or reference material must comply with the instructions for that examination.

Students must not communicate with other candidates during the examination. Any suspected academic misconduct may be reported to the appropriate examination authority for further action.

Submission and Results

At the end of the examination, students must stop writing when instructed by the invigilator. Answer scripts and other required materials must be submitted according to the examination procedure.

Examination results are published through the official academic system after evaluation and result processing are completed.

Students who wish to request a review, clarification, or other permitted examination service must follow the procedure and deadlines announced by the examination authority.
